THE CULT KIDNAPPER STRIKES AGAIN

- 2023: The founders of the city were exposed for their corruption
- 2024: A Mayor was killed for having an affair with a married woman
- 2025: The police discover more bodies from the cult kidnapper

KwaZulu Union Bay City, you never cease to amaze me. What in the world happened to this city? It's so beautiful from the outside, but I'm really starting to think it's always been rotten at the core.

Let's be real, the city has never been as safe as we liked to tell ourselves. Let's not act like we just woke up one day in 2021 and suddenly, young women started disappearing. No, no, no. This has been happening for much longer than the so called "House of the Presidency" would like to admit. It's just that before, they were able to keep it quiet. But not anymore.

Thanks to the Premediator, we now have clowns parading as vigilantes running all over the streets – especially at night – thinking they're superheroes or whatever. We have cops acting like executioners, gunning down criminals like it's just target practice. And the government? Don't even get me started. The amount of money – your money, tax payer money – they're throwing at private security companies to protect their "officials" is ridiculous. Have you seen how the new mayor has been moving? At least a dozen people to protect one woman – ONE GUYS!! No man.

THE CULT KIDNAPPER STRIKES AGAIN

Yet, even with all of that, someone continues to freely kidnap woman in their 20s, and nothing is being done about it. Nomathuba Busi Mdluli, Annelize Williams, Ubuntu Masango, Refilwe Sekgobela, Dineo Tladi, Lerato Msini-Jiyane are just some of the ones we know, and the list just keeps expanding.

Before 2023, most of you probably thought this was the best city in Africa – but to be fair, it kinda is, but that's besides the point. My point is... KUB City is not what you thought and I think 2023 opened your eyes. However, crime has gone done since 2023, so the Premeditor killing the founding members of the city was... good?

I'm side tracking, sorry. So my theory is that the kidnappings started in 2012 during the gang wars. Think about it. So many people died, and others were never found. So maybe the question is... were the gang wars just a smokescreen for the kidnappings, or was the cult kidnapper just taking advantage of the situation. Then in 2021, the kidnappings just became more evident and undeniable, dead women just being dumped in deserted places, and suddenly the city levelled up from dangerous to hunting ground.

As for the KwaZulu Union Police Services? "We're investigating" or "We can't comment on active investigations." That's Useless uniforms. They said it 2021, 2022, 2023, 2024, and you guessed it, they'll say it in 2025. But a question: If I'm right and this has been happening for over a decade, where are the answers? With so many resources, powerful tracking tools to find vigilantes, and yet, can't find someone kidnapping young women? Very suspect in my opinion. What exactly are these detectives detecting? Doughnuts? I know that's an unfair stereotype but I couldn't help myself.

Here's a theory: they already knew years ago about this kidnapper, long before we suspected. Maybe they were protecting the kidnappers then suddenly had a fallings out and that's why we're seeing all the evidence now. Okay, maybe that's a stretch, but think about it.

The uncomfortable truth we don't want to swallow is that this city is not broken, it's rotten. Chaos, violence, what's next? What's terrifying is that the Presidential Council continues to sit on their hands and our people continue to disappear and die.
